Customisable designs

Couples can choose from a selection of ready made designs. These can then be customised for their requirements.

Finishing touches such as, wax seals, coloured envelopes or silk ribbon can really personalise the design to suit the theme of the day.

Bespoke designs

Gemma works with couples to create a design specific to them; this can include images or words that have special meaning. Bespoke stationery is a great way to reflect a theme or the couples personalities.

There is also the option to keep the original drawings as a memento.
